Court Of Appeals Sets Execution Date for Keaton

The Fourth District Court Appeals has set June 22 as the date for the execution of Cleo Vernon Keaton, 29, convicted of the first degree slaying of Maurice Francis of Williamsport.

An entry filed in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court today ordered the sentence of death by the electric chair be imposed. Keaton is being held in the Ohio State Penitentiary.

The entry was filed by Judges Marshall Carlyle and Gordon B. Gray of the district appellate court.

Keaton was convicted Nov. 5, 1965, of two counts of first degree murder by a Pickaway County Jury.

ALTHOUGH the jury recommended mercy on a charge of first degree murder, they did not make such a recommendation in finding Keaton guilty of first degree murder while in perpetration of a robbery.

Judge William Ammer sentenced Keaton to death in the electric chair. The original date of the execution was April 22, 1966.

Emanuel Nadlin of Dayton, Keaton's attorney, asked for and was granted a stay of execution while he appealed the case. The appeal was denied Jan. 31.

The slaying of Francis occurred just north of the village of Williamsport Mar. 23, 1965. Keaton was apprehended a few hours later in Jamestown in the Francis automobile.

UC Regents To Continue Free Tuition

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Regents of the University of California have decided to continue free tuition at least until the summer of 1968, despite Gov. Ronald Reagan's call for tuition charges.

The regents, meeting Thursday, also approved a university budget higher than that proposed by Reagan, but less than the university had said it needs.

Action on the explosive question of charging tuition for the first time in the university's history was postponed until April. One board member said that administratively it is too late now to impose tuition for the 1967-68 academic year.

The board voted Thursday to seek $264 million from the California Legislature, $14 million less than they first asked and 26 million more than Reagan wants the university to spend.

At the same time, however, they told the university administration to recruit faculty and enroll students on the assumption of getting only $255 million. Reagan declared the state can't afford the $264 million figure. Of the $255 million he said: "I don't want anyone voting on the basis that the picture is that bright."

Heart Pump Patient Dies

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A Mexican farmer-rancher in whom surgeons implanted an artificial heart pump four days ago died today.

Methodist Hospital administrator Ted Bowen said the patient, Arces Hector Fernandez, 38, of Veracruz, Mexico, succumbed to pneumonia at 3:45 a.m.

List of CIA Connections Gets Longer

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times said today that five more academic and international organizations have been receiving funds from foundations identified as conduits for Central Intelligence Agency money, according to an examination of records.

In a dispatch from Washington, the Times said this brought the known total of such organizations to 11.

The newspaper identified the five new groups linked to CIA-connected foundations as:

—The Pan-American Foundation, connected with the University of Miami in Florida.

—The International Marketing Institute, a private organization that holds seminars at the Harvard Business School in Cambridge, Mass.

—The American Society of African Culture in New York, which provides works by American Negro writers and scholars to African universities and taped programs on Negro life in the United States to African radio stations.

—The American Friends of Middle East in Washington, which sponsors travel to the Middle East and finances publications.

—The International Development Foundation of New York, which specializes in training peasant and urban slum leaders in Latin-American countries to promote social progress there.

Officers of the five organizations said they had no knowledge of any connection

Sukarno Appears To Be on Way Out

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Indonesian Congress announced today it will meet March 7 to discuss the dismissal of President Sukarno, and one leader said the president's ouster has already been approved "in spirit."

Melanthon Siregar, vice chairman of the Congress, noted that Parliament, Indonesia's second-ranking legislative body, has unanimously approved a resolution calling for Sukarno's dismissal. The Parliament makes up half the membership of the Congress.

Congress leaders said the five-day session will also investigate Sukarno's role in the October 1965 Communist coup attempt. They predicted the Congress would reject Sukarno's responsibility for the attempted recent statement denying any coup.

Minister Opposes Course In Bible as Literature

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — For the second time in less than a year, a lawsuit has been filed here to stop the teaching of a course called "The Bible as Literature."

The suit filed Thursday is against the Lake Washington School District, which offers the course at suburban Redmond High School. Superior Court Judge William Wilkins set a hearing for March 1.

The earlier suit, filed last April 18, was against the University of Washington. Superior Court Judge W. R. Cole ruled last June 15 that the university could continue to offer the course. The plaintiffs have appealed to the State Supreme Court.

The Rev. Thomas W. Miller of Calvary Bible Presbyterian church in Seattle is a plaintiff in both suits. He contends that the courses violate the state constitution by using public funds to teach a particular religious point of view. In the University of Washington case, Judge Cole said the course was taught objectively.

The Rev. Mr. Miller and 15 other plaintiffs, some of them residents of the school district, asked an injunction against the district's board of directors restraining them from "authorizing courses of instruction dealing with presentation of religious subjects and the historical, biographical, narrative or literary features of the Bible."

Dr. Willard A. Downie, superintendent of the district, said the purpose of the course is to familiarize students with persons, places, stories and phrases referred to in the Bible, and to enable them to understand Biblical allusions in literature.

Maoists Claim Kansu Province

TOKYO (AP) — Reports reaching Tokyo today said Mao Tse-tung's forces claim capture of Kansu Province and have thrown back counterattacks in Fukien, facing Formosa. But they have run into serious trouble in a vital corner of Manchuria, the reports said.

There also were indications that all is not well in Red China's big fishery fleet and that local successes may have cooled the revolutionary ardor of some Maoists.

The seizure of Kansu — which borders on Outer Mongolia and Sinkiang — was announced by Lanchow Radio in a Chinese-language broadcast Feb. 6. The text of the broadcast has just become available in Tokyo.

Kansu is the fifth of China's 21 provinces and five autonomous regions claimed by the forces of Mao, 73, the Communist party chairman, in his fight to purge the government and Communist party organizations which President Liu Shao-chi and party general secretary Teng Hsiao-ping apparently have dominated since Liu replaced Mao as president in 1958.

Other provinces claimed by the Maoists have been Shantung, Heilungkiang, Kweichow and Shansi. A Chinese-language broadcast by Peking Radio early today said Fukien — opposite Formosa — also had been captured, but a latter English version indicated that the entire province had not fallen.

The portion of Manchuria reported seized by anti-Maoists was its southern tip, Wa Fang Tien, the former Kwantung Peninsula where the cities of Dairen and Port Arthur are located. Japanese correspondents quoted wall posters as saying

It includes recommendations for annual inspection of autos, physical examination of drivers every six years and mandatory driver training for youths among 23 in all, Maloney said.

Maloney spoke at a first-day session which also saw three law enforcement officers honored. The conference ended today.

State Highway Patrolman Bill Bradley of Ashland received the Optimist Clubs Award as Outstanding Highway Patrolman for 1966.

Kenneth McCloud of the patrol's Ironton post and Capt. Homer Fugett of the Ironton Police Department received citations for their "courageous action" during a Dec. 2, 1966, break from the Lawrence County Jail. The city's police chief and one of the escaping prisoners were killed in the gunfight that accompanied the jailbreak.

The damage: $336. "I'll go to prison rather than pay," said Daniels. "This is an outrage. My daughter was never informed that these were transfer charge calls."

Louise — who is 16, has shoulder-length hair and wears mini-skirts — told a reporter: "One time I chatted for an hour with my pen friend. His name is David Bruce and he's 18."

"When he began calling me, I thought he must be awfully wealthy and I was quite impressed. We used to talk about pop music and the Beatles. Nothing was said about reversing the charges."

NSA May Relinquish Overseas Activities

Wife's Words Won't Help Adam Powell

WASHINGTON (AP) — Testimony that Adam Clayton Powell apparently diverted thousands of dollars intended as his wife's salary may have made a strong impact on the select House committee weighing his fitness to serve in Congress.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said Thursday's testimony by the Harlem congressman's estranged wife, Marjorie, depicted Powell as being "in the position of coercing her in taking the checks from her, signing her name and disposing of the funds for his own purposes."

Celler described the soft-spoken Mrs. Powell as "a woman of great courage."

Sources close to the committee described the testimony as "closer to the Congress" than other matters being studied such as Powell's New York court troubles, in which appeals currently are pending.

The committee's major problem, the sources indicated, is to determine just what action is warranted by the evidence and by historical precedents covering past cases in which congressmen were expelled or punished.

Staff aides are spending the three-day weekend laying what Rep. Arch A. Moore, R-W.Va., called guidelines covering possible courses of action. The committee plans to meet again Monday — just three days before its deadline for presenting recommendations to the House.

Ironically, Mrs. Powell, who presented testimony which Celler called "damaging in the sense it didn't help Mr. Powell," wound up her appearance with an appeal that Powell be seated.

"Though we have not been together for some time, Adam is my husband and the father of my child," she said. "It is my fervent wish that he will continue his career in the service of his country."

While testifying, Mrs. Powell looked at 19 government checks totaling about $26,000 made out to her from January 1965 to July 1966 and said the endorsing signature was not hers.

"It does look familiar on some but I'm not absolutely sure," she said when asked whether she could identify the handwriting.

Powell has said he deposited the checks in his bank account and paid his wife's bills.

But Mrs. Powell said she never had given anyone authorization to cash the checks, that her husband's support payments were far less than the amount of the salary and that she understood he had not paid any of her bills.

When asked what happened to her paychecks, Mrs. Powell said, "I didn't get them." Later she said, "I thought he was getting them but I couldn't tell for sure."

Mrs. Powell said she had done little congressional work since 1963, and none since the summer of 1965. But he said she repeatedly had tried to get Powell to bring her back to Washington from his Puerto Rico home. She had moved there in 1961 just before their son, also named Adam, was born.

"He never allowed me to come back," she said, adding that she wanted to either come back or have her name taken from the payroll while not working was "a very embarrassing situation to me back home," she said.

What About Laws On Road Blocking?

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A New York Central crew stopped its freight train at the Newell Street crossing here Thursday, got off, and went home. The railroad said the men had worked 16 straight hours, the legal limit.

Train cars blocked the crossing until 56 minutes later when another crew rerouted from Perry, Ohio, arrived.

LBJ, Fulbright Clash over Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson contends America's cause abroad would be damaged by sticking to Senate-voted limits on the number of countries which can get U.S. aid this year.

A Johnson letter to this effect has gone to Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., a critic of the administration's handling of the global foreign assistance program. It replied to a protest from Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The Johnson-Fulbright exchange marks a preliminary skirmish in what could be a stiff battle over foreign aid in the new Congress. The President wants $3.1 billion for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The principal issue again probably will be money — Congress chopped out $450 million last year — but administration strategists also expect more congressional moves to tie restrictions into the program.

Currently at stake is a comparatively paltry $19 million. Yet, according to the administration, the Senate yardstick on this would wipe out U.S. economic help to most of the newly emerging countries of Africa.

The argument came up this way: Fulbright's committee last year voted to limit to 10 the number of countries which can get U.S. economic development loans, and to 40 those which may receive technical assistance.

The House favored more flexibility. In the resulting compromise legislation, the President was allowed to make exception to these ceilings if he found such to be in the national interest.

Johnson served notice last month that development loans would go to 29 countries, 19 above the Senate limit, and technical assistance to 48, eight above its ceiling. Fulbright wrote Johnson, "I deplore your action."

The presidential reply has not yet been made public, but administration sources Thursday outlined the essence of the reply.

The development loan and technical assistance programs for this year were already underway when Congress wrote in the limits. Of the 48 receiving technical assistance, 35 are African countries. Of the 29 getting development loans, 19 are African.

The African programs would be eliminated first in any number.

Bob Kennedy Opposes LBJ Bomb Policy

BOSTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., reportedly is preparing to declare his opposition to the Johnson administration's policy of bombing North Vietnam.

The position will be taken in a speech he plans to give in the next few weeks detailing his views on "all aspects" of the Vietnam war, the Boston Globe said today in a copyrighted dispatch from its Washington bureau.

In Washington, Kennedy's press aide, Frank Mankiewicz, confirmed that the senator is preparing a speech on Vietnam, but said he "hasn't laid it out yet."

The Globe Dispatch quoted Kennedy as saying in an interview that he has appraised the Johnson administration of his intention.

Kennedy said last Monday that he regretted the resumption of U.S. bombing after the lunar new year's truce.

The Globe quoted Kennedy as saying he refrained from taking a stronger stand at the time, because, "I thought it best not to make any statement that could endanger prospects for peace during what Mr. Walt Rostow called 'a delicate phase' of preliminary moves toward negotiations."

Says It Now Is Regarded As Spy Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Student Association is considering giving up its overseas activities in the belief its representatives would always be looked on as government spies.

As an emergency NSA board meeting on the organization's future dragged into the third day today, its leaders appeared convinced abandonment of its international branch will be the cost of its long-secret financial link with the Central Intelligence Agency that now has come to light.

"I think that's very likely to happen," said a participant in the meeting, Jim Johnson, 23, last year's vice president for national affairs.

Johnson and other NSA leaders said Thursday no CIA money has gone into the student organization's domestic activities, including its extensive civil rights program in the South.

The NSA has an office in Tougaloo, Miss., and operates the Southern Student Human Relations project in Atlanta under a $35,000-a-year grant from the Marshall Field Foundation, Johnson said.

It also has conducted voter registration drives in the South, raised money for impoverished Negro families and collected more than 1 million books from students for distribution to Negro colleges.

Johnson said he was unaware until a few weeks ago that the CIA had been underwriting the cost of NSA's participation in foreign student activities for the last 15 years.

A future under the shadow of suspicion also faced other student groups known to have received money from foundations that allegedly served as financial channels for the CIA.

"Everyone will assume now that anyone working for a youth group is, ipso facto, a CIA agent," said the director of one of them, Eugene Theroux.

Theroux, 28, heads Independent Research Service, Inc., which got money from the Independence Foundation of Boston, named by Ramparts magazine as a CIA front. It was Ramparts that put the spotlight on undercover relationship between the CIA and NSA.

Theroux said he was unaware of any CIA money coming to his organization, which was set up by some students in Cambridge, Mass., in 1958 to advise American students planning to attend the 1959 Vienna Youth Festival.

It also reportedly financed American student trips to the Helsinki Youth Festival in 1962. Internal Revenue Service files show it got $125,000 from the Independence Foundation in 1962.

Official tax records also showed the Independence Foundation made individual grants to two former NSA presidents.

Still Hope for Humans Who Worry over Pups

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — One lonely puppy remains at the bottom of a dark, damp well after two others were fished to the surface.

One of the pups was hauled out Thursday after being lured onto a sling made of a towel containing morsels of food, and another was fished out eight hours later by a noose attached to a long pole.

But one little holdout whimpered still at the bottom of the shaft, evading three days of efforts to save it.

The four-week-old pups wandered away while mom — a German shepherd named Lady — wasn't looking Tuesday and tumbled down the 28-foot shaft. Efforts to dig a rescue shaft were abandoned after one man was partially buried in a landslide, and other cave-ins followed.

So much uproar over three tiny puppies brought smiles to the faces of some gathered around the rescue scene, but not in the presence of Avery L. Clark Jr., father of five unhappy young children and owner of the pups.

"I just wouldn't feel right knowing I let them die without doing anything," said Clark.

"Sure, pups are drowned and put to sleep every day without a thought," Clark mused. "But I have five children, and I feel like they'd expect me to try to save the pups."

"When I thought about it, and knew the only alternative was to throw gas down the well, I knew I was going to do all I could to get them out. Gassing them would have been done only as a last resort."

Mao's enemies were reported to have taken the peninsula with the aid of an unnamed army unit.

LBJ, Fulbright Clash over Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson contends America's cause abroad would be damaged by sticking to Senate-voted limits on the number of countries which can get U.S. aid this year.

A Johnson letter to this effect has gone to Sen. J.W. Fulbright D-Ark., a critic of the administration's handling of the global foreign assistance program. It replied to a protest from Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The Johnson-Fulbright exchange marks a preliminary skirmish in what could be a stiff battle over foreign aid in the new Congress. The President wants $3.1 billion for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The principal issue again probably will be money — Congress chopped out $450 million last year — but administration strategists also expect more congressional moves to tie restrictions into the program.

The development loan and technical assistance programs for this year were already underway when Congress wrote in the limits. Of the 48 receiving technical assistance, 35 are African countries. Of the 29 getting development loans, 19 are African.

The African programs would be eliminated first in any numerical cutback, because theirs are the smallest. The eight smallest technical aid programs add up to about $2 million and the 19 smallest development loans to $17 million.

The administration plans to phase out direct aid to many African countries once multinational programs can go into effect there.

This is what Fulbright advocates. But to knock out the direct U.S. aid in midstream now, in Johnson's view, would be wasteful and highly damaging to the U.S. position in Africa.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Student Association is considering giving up its overseas activities in the belief its representatives would always be looked on as government spies.

As an emergency NSA board meeting on the organization's future dragged into the third day today, its leaders appeared convinced abandonment of its international branch will be the cost of its long-secret financial link with the Central Intelligence Agency that now has come to light.

"I think that's very likely to happen," said a participant in the meeting, Jim Johnson, 23, last year's vice president for national affairs.

Johnson and other NSA leaders said Thursday no CIA money has gone into the student organization's domestic activities, including its extensive civil rights program in the South.

The NSA has an office in Tougaloo, Miss., and operates the Southern Student Human Relations project in Atlanta under a $35,000-a-year grant from the Marshall Field Foundation, Johnson said.

It also has conducted voter registration drives in the South, raised money for impoverished Negro families and collected more than 1 million books from students for distribution to Negro colleges.

Johnson said he was unaware until a few weeks ago that the CIA had been underwriting the cost of NSA's participation in foreign student activities for the last 15 years.

A future under the shadow of suspicion also faced other student groups known to have received money from foundations that allegedly served as financial channels for the CIA.

"Everyone will assume now that anyone working for a youth group is, ipso facto, a CIA agent," said the director of one of them, Eugene Theroux.

Theroux, 28, heads Independent Research Service, Inc., which got money from the Independence Foundation of Boston, named by Ramparts magazine as a CIA front. It was Ramparts that put the spotlight on undercover relationship between the CIA and NSA.

Theroux said he was unaware of any CIA money coming to his organization, which was set up by some students in Cambridge, Mass., in 1958 to advise American students planning to attend the 1959 Vienna Youth Festival.

It also reportedly financed American student trips to the Helsinki Youth Festival in 1962. Internal Revenue Service files show it got $125,000 from the Independence Foundation in 1962.

Official tax records also showed the Independence Foundation made individual grants to two former NSA presidents.

Bad Weather Now Prevails

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stormy weather, with snow, sleet, rain, gusty winds and cold, continued to plague wide areas of the nation today. There were indications of moderating temperatures — but icy air will maintain a grip of many sections.

A storm which left from 6 to 10 inches of snow in southern parts of Missouri and Illinois, northern Arkansas and Oklahoma, spread eastward across the Tennessee Valley into the Virginias early today.

Snow of 4 inches or more was expected in central and eastern Kentucky and the mountains of Eastern Tennessee. Hazardous driving warnings were posted for adjacent sections of Indiana, Arkansas, Missouri, mountain areas of North Carolina, the Virginias and Maryland.

The gale-force winds slammed into eastern areas Thursday, hitting New England, New York State, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, and North Carolina. Property damage was extensive.

Zero cold stung an 11-state area from northeastern Montana to interior sections of New England. The mercury dropped to more than 20 below zero in parts of North Dakota, an improvement over Thursday's -33 in the state and -38 in Minnesota.

The Weather Bureau called for cloudy and warmer weather in the majority of states but temperatures generally were expected to remain below normal.

Thursday's storm left the most snow in Missouri with 10 inches, 9 inches in Southern Illinois and 7 inches in Arkansas and Oklahoma. Six inches of snow fell in Kentucky and 3 inches in West Virginia.

Two days of 50-plus temperatures cleared the Washington area of remnants from the 12-inch snowfall of Feb. 6 but 3 to 5 inches of snow were indicated today. The mercury dropped 39 degrees in 20 hours, from 63 Thursday to 33 early today and lower marks were indicated.

Still Hope for Humans Who Worry over Pups

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — One lonely puppy remains at the bottom of a dark, damp well after two others were fished to the surface.

One of the pups was hauled out Thursday after being lured onto a sling made of a towel containing morsels of food, and another was fished out eight hours later by a noose attached to a long pole.

But one little holdout whimpered still at the bottom of the shaft, evading three days of efforts to save it.

The four-week-old pups wandered away while mom — a German shepherd named Lady — wasn't looking Tuesday and tumbled down the 28-foot shaft. Efforts to dig a rescue shaft were abandoned after one man was partially buried in a landslide, and other cave-ins followed.

So much uproar over three tiny puppies brought smiles to the faces of some gathered around the rescue scene, but not in the presence of Avery L. Clark Jr., father of five unhappy young children and owner of the pups.

"I just wouldn't feel right knowing I let them die without doing anything," said Clark.

"Sure, pups are drowned and put to sleep every day without a thought," Clark mused. "But I have five children, and I feel like they'd expect me to try to save the pups."

"When I thought about it, and knew the only alternative was to throw gas down the well, I knew I was going to do all I could to get them out. Gassing them would have been done only as an alternative."

Sertoma Club Planning for Pancake Day

The scholarships, one to each school, will be given for a period of one year. The amounts will depend on success of the Pancake Day.

Awarding of the trade or technical school scholarships will be based on financial need and the recipients' ability to benefit by the training.

SERTOMANS named as committee chairmen were: George Hritz, general chairman; Dr. H. H. Shuttlesworth, head chef; Robert Holycross, procurement; David Sealock, prizes; Russell Archer, banquet; Robert Scranton, tickets; Ernest Ankrom, house chairman; and Charles Carle, publicity.

The Pancake Day will be held in early April. The time and place will be announced in the near future. The public is invited.

The Times said that the five organizations "have been receiving funds from one of a combination of three foundations that officers of the National Student Association have said were conduits for CIA money to their association."

"The foundations are the J. Frederick Brown Foundation and the Independence Foundation of Boston, which have the same address and same trustee, and the Sydney and Esther Rabb Charitable Foundation of Boston," the Times added.

The Boston Globe published today excerpts from what it said was a secret report written for the CIA by a former official of the National Student Association.

The excerpts describe reactions of NSA members who accompanied six Soviet student editors on a visit to the United States from May 17 to June 16, 1958.

"In capsule, the student hosts compiled in-depth dossiers on each of the foreigners, complete to the degree of noting personality pluses and minuses," the Globe said in a copyright story. "Minute detail follows minute detail, from cover to cover."

Contractors List Officers

New officers and directors were elected Thursday night when the Pickaway County Contractors Assn. conducted its annual meeting at the Wardell Party Home.

James Peters, local paint contractor, is the association's new president. He succeeds Robert Kenworthy at the helm.

Other officers are Charles Tomlinson, vice president; Bernard Hammel, secretary; and Ronald Nau, treasurer.

Three new directors are John Taylor, Hugh Neff and Terry Barthelmas.

PRESIDENT Peters said future meetings will be held the third Thursday of each month at the Wardell Party Home.

Officials said an electrical school sponsored by the association for several months has been completed. Plans are now in the making for a course in plumbing.

Hot Coffee Blamed
Angela Anderson, 22 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson of Route 2, Kingston, was treated Thursday at Berger Hospital's Emergency Room for first degree burns. The injury resulted after hot coffee spilled on her face, neck and chest.

STILL CHECKING — The Ohio State Highway Patrol is continuing an investigation of the automobile accident Thursday in which Fred Stumbo, 20, of 455 1/2 East Main St., driver of the car pictured above, suffered injuries to his legs. Clarence Curry, 34, of 106 Kimberly Place, was driving another car also involved in the mishap. The accident occurred on Route 23 near Houston St. Sgt. James Pribble, commander of the local OSP post, surveys the damaged vehicle.

The records show Edward Garvey received $3,000 in 1962, when he was president. It was listed as a scholarship. Garvey, 26, now a student at the University of Wisconsin law school, said he was not getting CIA money.

Tax records also show that Robert T. Francis II, a former overseas representative for NSA, received $4,681 from the foundation in 1964, and that W. Dennis Shaul, that year's president, got $500.

Shaul said in Akron, Ohio, that NSA "had no more problems with that (CIA) money than any other money." He said students who had no idea of the relationship to meetings where they felt no compulsion at all to espouse a government position.

In New York, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said, "We must continue to press for greater congressional control over operation" of the CIA. He said Congress should examine what he said was CIA support of foreign refugee groups in this country and its subsidization of books published for consumption here and abroad.

And Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana renewed his call for a Senate investigation of the whole affair by the special committee headed by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., that watches over the CIA.

"It's a situation that bears looking into in depth," he said. Dr. E. G. Williamson, University of Minnesota dean of students and president of the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators, said the CIA-NSA "relationship contradicts the ideals of an open, democratic and independent student union."

Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $25.

Judge To Head State Bar Committee

Pickaway County Common Pleas Judge William Ammer today was re-appointed chairman of the Criminal Law Committee of the Ohio State Bar Association, according to an announcement made by Francis L. Dale, president.

Judge Ammer is now serving his third year as chairman of the committee. He previously served six years as secretary of the group.

The Criminal Law Committee is continually reviewing the criminal laws of Ohio and making recommendations for legislation that may be indicated by changed conditions or court rulings. The committee sponsored three bills now before the General Assembly relative to criminal law.

Several years ago the committee recommended a complete recodification of the Ohio criminal code. The last General Assembly authorized such a study by the Legislative Service Commission. This work is now in progress with the Criminal Law Committee serving as an advisory group for the recodification.

The proposed recodified criminal code will be ready for presentation to the General Assembly in 1969, according to Judge Ammer.

Ammer announced that a meeting of the committee will be held in Columbus on March 17 and 18.

GE Reports Layoff for 23 Employees

The layoff of 23 employees as the result of a lower sales rate was announced today by E. G. Grigg, manager of General Electric's Circleville Lamp plant.

Grigg said the layoff represents less than three per cent of the local plant's employment which is considerably above last year's figure.

The local manager also announced that most of the plant will be shut down for one week in order to reduce inventories.

General Electric officials in Cleveland said the company there is laying off 263 employees — 90 indefinitely and 173 for one week due to scheduled production cutbacks in its Lamp Division. Affected are the fluorescent plant at Nela Park and the chemical products plant at Ivanhoe Road.

The spokesman noted that employment at the Lamp Division's Cleveland-area plants had increased 1,500 over the past two years.

Man Is Cited In Assault Case

John McCoy, 23, of 369 E. Main St., has been fined 100 and costs and sentenced to 90 days in the county jail on an assault and battery accusation.

McCoy, cited into Circleville Municipal Court by city police, entered a "no contest" plea. Judge Sterling M. Lamb suspended the jail term and ordered probation for two years.

Named in the same instance for fighting and disturbing the peace was Larry Schwalbaugh of Route 3. He forfeited a $50 bond rather than make an appearance in court.

Legislature's Score Not Impressive Yet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's 107th General Assembly may prove one of the most important in state history but the legislative box score after seven weeks' work is far from impressive.

It reads: Four corrections in the state code and passage of a routine public school deficiency bill. These are the only bills to pass both Houses and be signed by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

But the tally belies the fact that many hours have gone into a pair of constitutional resolutions which, if approved by voters, will affect the lives of Ohioans for generations to come.

Young Bike Rider Hurt

Circleville Police today investigated an accident in which Tommy McNamara 8, of 135 E. Water Street, was injured.

The youngster was injured while riding his bicycle. The bike collided with an auto driven by George James Myers, 38, Route 4.

Myers told city police the boy apparently came out of the first alley east of Watt St. He said he did not see the youngster until he was directly in front of his car.

The youth sustained minor injuries and was taken to Berger Hospital for examination.

An accident occurred late Thursday when the auto driven by Betty Lou Harbor, 31, of 1265 N. Court St. tried to turn into the left lane of traffic. Her car collided with that of Beryl E. Ash, 33, of Route 4.

No injuries were reported.

Majority Republicans said Thursday before weekend adjournment that final legislative action should come next week on the administration's Ohio Bond Commission and reapportionment resolutions. This would clear the way for other important legislation which up to now hardly has been given a second look.

Part of the holdup has been a decision by the administration to delay the governor's "State of the State" message and presentation of the two-year budget to run the state for two years beginning July 1.

Administration spokesmen have indicated the governor is awaiting the final report of the State Tax Study Commission and legislative approval of the Bond Commission proposal to which the state's capital improvements program is tied.

The reapportionment resolution, which would create legislative districts for use until after the 1970 federal census and Chaplain Pusey's pastoral positions have all been in northern Ohio. His military career started while living in Marion where he joined the U. S. Army Reserve. He later transferred to the Ohio National Guard.

The chaplain attended Pasadena College and Olivet Nazarene College where he received his bachelor of theology degree. His seminary and graduate work was taken at Drake University Divinity School, Central Baptist Theological Seminary and Nazarene Theological Seminary where he earned a bachelor of divinity degree in 1956.

HE HAS taken additional graduate study at the Oberlin School and was graduated from the U. S. Army Chaplain School at Ft. Hamilton, N. Y.

Church of God To Dedicate New Building Here Sunday

The Circleville Church of God will dedicate this new building at 400 Nicholas Drive starting at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

The Rev. H. B. Ramsey, state overseer of the Churches of God in Ohio, will bring the dedication message. A full day of services have been planned.

Rev. Ramsey's address has been scheduled for 2:30 p. m. Sunday School will commence at 9:45 a. m. and the morning worship service will begin at 11 a. m. with the Rev. T. A. Perkins, district overseer of the Columbus Churches of God delivering the sermon.

The evening service will start at 7 p. m. The Rev. Henry Ellis of Newport News, Va., will bring the message.

THE Rev. R. J. Varnell, pastor of the Circleville church, has extended a cordial invitation to the public to attend services.

The present organization of the Church of God in Circleville began when a few families who were members or friends in other areas moved here. Realizing there was no Church of God in this vicinity, they saw the need for a Pentecostal church.

The interested persons contacted the Rev. Henry B. Ellis, who was the district overseer of the Columbus district. He obtained the Masonic Lodge Building for a temporary place of worship.

The rent was paid by the Frebis Ave. Church of God for the first few months of worship. The Reverend Ellis helped conduct the services.

This is a 12.3 per cent increase over 1965 earnings of $1.87 per share. Results were announced at the closing session of a 4-day sales and merchandise meeting of 600 management personnel in Pittsburgh.

Sales increased 5.5 per cent to $315,033,701 to set another new record, and averaged $620,145 per store, a substantial increase over the $580,810 for the previous year, Mack said.

Chief Resigns

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Lawrence H. Caylor, police chief here since 1962, announced his resignation Thursday, effective April 1, because of ill health. A successor is not expected to be named until the new city manager, Graham Watt of Portland, Maine, takes over in March.

and preached for the congregation as much as possible until a minister could be obtained.

The initial service was held on the first Sunday in May, 1956, with 16 persons in attendance for the Sunday School.

In October 1956 a small building west of Circleville was rented for the church's services, with Girard E. Edelblute as pastor.

On Oct. 19, 1956, the local church was officially organized by the Rev. D. C. Boatwright, state overseer at that time. Ten people became charter members of the Church of God at Circleville.

A FEW months later the church purchased adjacent property where worship services could be conducted. This site consisted of an older home which was remodeled through the generosity of friends of the church.

The Rev. George Carpenter filled the vacancy created when Girard Edelblute resigned in 1957. Most of the remodeling was done during the pastorate of Rev. Carpenter. Seven members also were added.

In 1958, Rev. Carpenter moved to another pastorate and the vacancy was filled by the present pastor, the Rev. R. J. Varnell beginning September 1958.

In 1963, the church property was sold and the church services were held in the Memorial Hall from March 1963 through June 1964.

The present property was purchased in 1963 and plans were made to build a church. The groundbreaking service was held in September 1963. As soon as possible, construction was begun on the basement.

Services were conducted in the basement beginning in July 1964. Plans continued for the building of the sanctuary, but actual construction was not started until June 1966.

THE sanctuary was completed in November 1966, with 143 in attendance for the first service.

Church of God To Dedicate New Building Here Sunday

The Circleville Church of God will dedicate this new building at 400 Nicholas Drive starting at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

The Rev. H. B. Ramsey, state overseer of the Churches of God in Ohio, will bring the dedication message. A full day of services have been planned.

Rev. Ramsey's address has been scheduled for 2:30 p. m. Sunday School will commence at 9:45 a. m. and the morning worship service will begin at 11 a. m. with the Rev. T. A. Perkins, district overseer of the Columbus Churches of God delivering the sermon.

The evening service will start at 7. The Rev. Henry Ellis of Newport News, Va., will bring the message.

THE Rev. R. J. Varnell, pastor of the Circleville church, has extended a cordial invitation to the public to attend services.

The present organization of the Church of God in Circleville began when a few families who were members or friends in other areas moved here. Realizing there was no Church of God in this vicinity, they saw the need for a Pentecostal church.

The interested persons contacted the Rev. Henry B. Ellis, who was the district overseer of the Columbus district. He obtained the Masonic Lodge Building for a temporary place of worship.

The rent was paid by the Frebis Ave. Church of God for the first few months of worship. The Reverend Ellis helped conduct the services.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

SENATORS Bobby and Teddy Kennedy are not above kidding each other in public addresses—well aware that it brightens both their images. Teddy, for example, when recently accepting a plaque for Brother Bobby, who was out of town, told the story of the two brothers who went fishing together one morning. One brother was loaded down with every variety of expensive equipment, the other had only an old pole. Of course, the latter pulled in all the fish.

The next morning the angler who hadn't had so much as a bite, purloined his brother's old pole and tried again. Once again he failed to get a nibble. As he sadly planned to decamp, however, a great big trout stuck his head out of the water and hollered, "Hey, where's your brother?"

Most colorful, if not most talented, of all the skippers of the old Brooklyn Dodger ball club, was rotund Wilbur Robinson, "Uncle Robbie" to the worshipful sports scribers of the day. After one prolonged losing streak, Manager Robinson informed his players, "The first guy who pulls a boner this afternoon gets plastered with a ten-dollar fine." He thereupon stepped out of the dug-out and handed the plate umpire not his batting order, but his laundry ticket.

From the sayings of Kin Hubbard:
There's only two ways to handle a woman—and nobody knows either of them.
When some fellers decide to retire, nobody knows the difference. There's two ways that could stand some rewritin': "The Star-Spangled Banner" and "Happy Birthday to You"—the first one 'cause nobody kin sing it, the second 'cause everybody kin.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Our son has suddenly decided to drop out of college in the middle of his junior year. The reason he gives is that he is "confused" and does not know where he is going. The school psychologist suggested that some form of psychological guidance is important if our son is to be straightened out.

How can we, the untrained parents, make the decision as to the kind of doctor to go to. Can you help us?

Mr. & Mrs. R. I., Wash. Dear Mr. & Mrs. I.: It always comes as a distinct shock to learn that your child is not as happy as you assumed he was at college. Unfortunately, parents too often are the last to learn that some kind of emotional or social problem distresses their young adult children.

Apparently the difficulty your son encountered was important enough so that some form of psychotherapy was recommended. Actually such help and support may uncover the basic reasons for his emotional distress and prepare him to return to college at a later date. More important, such guidance will lay the groundwork for his being a happier person in any walk of life.

How does one choose the ideal person to help your son? Your family doctor is always the most reliable person to direct you to the most competent help in your community. He knows the accomplishments, training and background of the specialists most suited to your son's needs.

Let me clarify some of the confusion that exists about the differences in training and the techniques of treatment among psychoanalysts, psychiatrists and psychologists.

A psychoanalyst or a psychiatrist is a highly trained scholar who has usually attained the degree of Doctor of Medicine (M.D.) or that of Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) This has been followed by long, arduous specialized training in mental hospitals. At the same time these doctors have had a concentrated period of personal psychoanalysis to better equip them to understand the problems of their patients.

Anyone of these three types of specialists will be able to delve into the deep recesses of your son's mind and help bring to the surface the reason for his confusion. There are a number of tests like the Rorschach and other aptitude studies that may be guidelines to a more rapid approach to his problem.

Parents, kind, gentle and understanding, cannot make the decision as to the kind of treatment their child needs. You are too closely identified with your son's problem to come to any unbiased opinion.

You must follow the direction of the doctor who will make the decision as to whether your son needs deep analysis or psychotherapy. There is a difference.

With psychotherapy the doctor offers advice and influences the patient's day-to-day activity. With psychoanalysis the doctor guides the patient through the labyrinth of his childhood experiences to relieve any disturbing memories.

Modern educators constantly call on the psychologist to give them a better understanding of their student's problems. You are indeed fortunate that his teachers acted as surrogate parents to learn the reason for your son's temporary difficulty.

Many face injuries are caused by walking into a glass door. A warning strip should be on every transparent window or door.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—A single person with a taxable income of $6,000 will pay $130 more in federal income tax this April than a married couple will pay on the same amount.

This situation has persisted since the late 1940s despite the inability of anyone to convince the single taxpayer that it is fair. To him, it amounts to a subsidy of marriages and babies.

Moreover, some single persons are finding the situation becoming more burdensome. The higher the income the wider is the payment disparity. And more Americans are working up into these higher income brackets.

A married taxpayer with $8,000 taxable income is scheduled to pay, according to the official charts, a tax of $1,380. On this same income the single taxpayer will pay $1,630, or $250 more.

At a taxable income of $24,000 this difference reaches a peak in percentage. At that figure the married taxpayer pays $5,560. The single taxpayer pays $8,030, or $2,470 or 29.5 per cent more.

Tax authorities now note that there are many more workers in the $6,000 or higher categories than in 1948, when the present law was passed, and that it can be argued that the present tax setup is thus becoming more discriminatory.

In answer to the argument that a married couple is entitled to a tax break they draw attention to the fact that a married couple gets an automatic deduction of $1,200, or $600 more than the single person.

How did this situation develop?

In the 1940s nine states had laws, upheld later in the courts, that said earned income and property income belonged equally to the husband and the wife. More states made plans to copy these laws.

What did this mean? Well, look at your income tax schedule of rates. It is progressive. More, proportionately, is taken from an $8,000 income—a bit more than 20 per cent—than from a $6,000 income—about 19 per cent. The tax take escalates.

So, the single taxpayer with $8,000 taxable income must pay $1,630.

Under these state laws, however, the married taxpayer could divide his $8,000 income into two $4,000 incomes—one for him and one for his wife.

Because a $4,000 income is taxed proportionately less—$890—two $4,000 incomes are taxed a total of only $1,380, a $250 difference.

Well, in 1948 the federal government decided that if some states had this advantage it must be applied to all.

'Happenings' That Don't

NEW YORK (AP)—They say if you just keep living everything will happen to you. But I've been standing on the street corners of life for half a century, staring at the shop windows of eternity, and have never yet—

Danced a polka with Queen Elizabeth.

Taken a Turkish bath in Sweden.
Learned to play chess.
Drawn a mustache and a beard on a public poster of Sophia Loren.
Gone for a walk atop the third rail of the subway.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

SENATORS Bobby and Teddy Kennedy are not above kidding each other in public addresses—well aware that it brightens both their images. Teddy, for example, when recently accepting a plaque for Brother Bobby, who was out of town, told the story of the two brothers who went fishing together one morning. One brother was loaded down with every variety of expensive equipment, the other had only an old pole. Of course, the latter pulled in all the fish.

The next morning the angler who hadn't had so much as a bite, purloined his brother's old pole and tried again. Once again he failed to get a nibble. As he sadly planned to decamp, however, a great big trout stuck his head out of the water and hollered, "Hey, where's your brother?"

Most colorful, if not most talented, of all the skippers of the old Brooklyn Dodger ball club, was rotund Wilbur Robinson, "Uncle Robbie" to the worshipful sports scribes of the day. After one prolonged losing streak, Manager Robinson informed his players, "The first guy who pulls a boner this afternoon gets plastered with a ten-dollar fine." He thereupon stepped out of the dug-out and handed the plate umpire not his batting order, but his laundry ticket.

From the sayings of Kin Hubbard:

There's only two ways to handle a woman—and nobody knows either of them.

When some fellows decide to retire, nobody knows the difference. There's two songs that could stand some rewriting: "The Star-Spangled Banner" and "Happy Birthday to You"—the first one 'cause nobody kin sing it, the second 'cause everybody kin.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Our son has suddenly decided to drop out of college in the middle of his junior year. The reason he gives is that he is "confused" and does not know where he is going. The school psychologist suggested that some form of psychological guidance is important if our son is to be straightened out.

How can we, the untrained parents, make the decision as to the kind of doctor to go to. Can you help us?

Mr. & Mrs. R. I. Wash. Dear Mr. & Mrs. I.: It always comes as a distinct shock to learn that your child is not as happy as you assumed he was at college. Unfortunately, parents too often are the last to learn that some kind of emotional or social problem distresses their young adult children.

Apparently the difficulty your son encountered was important enough so that some form of psychotherapy was recommended. Actually such help and support may uncover the basic reasons for his emotional distress and prepare him to return to college at a later date. More important, such guidance will lay the groundwork for his being a happier person in any walk of life.

How does one choose the ideal person to help your son? Your family doctor is always the most reliable person to direct you to the most competent help in your community. He knows the accomplishments, training and background of the specialists most suited to your son's needs. Let me clarify some of the confusion that exists about the differences in training and the techniques of treatment among psychoanalysts, psychiatrists and psychologists.

A psychoanalyst or a psychiatrist is a highly trained scholar who has usually attained the degree of Doctor of Medicine (M.D.) or that of Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) This has been followed by long, arduous specialized training in mental hospitals. At the same time these doctors have had a concentrated period of personal psychoanalysis to better equip them to understand the problems of their patients.

Anyone of these three types of specialists will be able to delve into the deep recesses of your son's mind and help bring to the surface the reason for his confusion. There are a number of tests like the Rorschach and other aptitude studies that may be guidelines to a more rapid approach to his problem.

Parents, kind, gentle and understanding, cannot make the decision as to the kind of treatment their child needs. You are too closely identified with your son's problem to come to any unbiased opinion.

You must follow the direction of the doctor who will make the decision as to whether your son needs deep analysis or psychotherapy. There is a difference.

With psychotherapy the doctor offers advice and influences the patient's day-to-day activity. With psychoanalysis the doctor guides the patient through the labyrinth of his childhood experiences to relieve any disturbing memories.

Modern educators constantly call on the psychologist to give them a better understanding of their student's problems. You are indeed fortunate that his teachers acted as surrogate parents to learn the reason for your son's temporary difficulty.

Many face injuries are caused by walking into a glass door. A warning strip should be on every transparent window or door.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—A single person with a taxable income of $6,000 will pay $130 more in federal income tax this April than a married couple will pay on the same amount.

This situation has persisted since the late 1940s despite the inability of anyone to convince the single taxpayer that it is fair. To him, it amounts to a subsidy of marriages and babies.

Moreover, some single persons are finding the situation becoming more burdensome. The higher the income the wider is the payment disparity. And more Americans are working up into these higher income brackets.

A married taxpayer with $8,000 taxable income is scheduled to pay, according to the official charts, a tax of $1,380. On this same income the single taxpayer will pay $1,630, or $250 more.

At a taxable income of $24,000 this difference reaches a peak in percentage. At that figure the married taxpayer pays $5,560. The single taxpayer pays $8,030, or $2,470 or 29.5 per cent more.

Tax authorities now note that there are many more workers in the $6,000 or higher categories than in 1948, when the present law was passed, and that it can be argued that the present tax setup is thus becoming more discriminatory.

In answer to the argument that a married couple is entitled to a tax break they draw attention to the fact that a married couple gets an automatic deduction of $1,200, or $600 more than the single person.

How did this situation develop?

In the 1940s nine states had laws, upheld later in the courts, that said earned income and property income belonged equally to the husband and the wife. More states made plans to copy these laws.

What did this mean? Well, look at your income tax schedule of rates. It is progressive. More, proportionately, is taken from an $8,000 income—a bit more than 20 per cent—than from a $6,000 income—about 19 per cent. The tax take escalates.

So, the single taxpayer with $8,000 taxable income must pay $1,630.

Under these state laws, however, the married taxpayer could divide his $8,000 income into two $4,000 incomes—one for him and one for his wife.

Because a $4,000 income is taxed proportionately less—$890—two $4,000 incomes are taxed a total of only $1,380, a $250 difference.

Well, in 1948 the federal government decided that if some states had this advantage it must be applied to all.

Council of Church Women Discusses Many Projects

A plan for organizing a Senior Citizens Center in Circleville was among many projects discussed during this week's meeting of the Circleville Council of Church Women.

Mrs. J. Boyd Stout presided at the session, held in the First EUB Church Service Center. Mrs. Walter Jones led in opening devotions. Richard Thomas, president of the Youth Fellowship was a guest.

Thanks were extended to the members of St. Joseph's Church for their hospitality for the World Day of Prayer. Approximately 200 attended the service and the fellowship hour following. The offering amounted to $139.00, all of which will be used for Christian education and mission purposes.

Mrs. Lorentz reported that 41 families had been helped at the Clothing Center on Feb. 1, and reminded everyone to continue to save and donate good, usable clothing and household items to the center.

Ideas for organizing a Center for Senior Citizens were discussed and a visitation will be made to the Center in Columbus. In the meantime, there is a group meeting at the First Methodist Church every Wednesday for the entire day. They cordially extend an invitation for others to join them.

Mr. Fred Duncan, of Pinckney St., is also interested in organizing an Old Timers musical group, to play for their own enjoyment. Anyone interested in this may call him or come to the meetings on Wednesday.

There will be no March meeting of the Council. The next meeting will be April 10, in the Church of the Brethren.

Mrs. Herbert Southward led the group in closing prayer.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Blabbermouth's Day Will Come

DEAR ABBY: There is a woman in our town who works for a loan company, and she blabs all the confidential information she picks up thru her job. She tells everything she knows, and she knows plenty.

I understand that her boss has been informed of this fact, but he won't fire her, because he has a "personal" interest in her, if you know what I mean. (The boss is married and so is this woman.)

How can innocent people be tipped off to what the deal is there?

HEARD TELL

DEAR HEARD: A business that keeps a "necropool" blabbermouth will not last long. Those who come within earshot of her will see to that.

DEAR ABBY: Recently we moved into a very nice home, and our problem is the interference we get when we try to use our television set. Now we find out that a neighbor is a ham radio operator, and that's the reason for the interference. My son spoke to his son about it, and the kid gave him some kind of silly answer about maybe something was wrong with OUR set!

Abby, do you mean to tell me that just because some nut fools around with ham radio for a hobby, we have to hold still for this? In this country where there are so many ridiculous laws, are there none to control these useless nuts? Please advise.

RECEPTION RUINED

DEAR RUINED: Ham operators are usually very cooperative and perhaps your neighbor would be, too, if you approached him properly. I am advised by a veteran ham operator that if a neighbor complains about interference, he (the ham) will gladly provide him with a coil which filters out the interference.

DEAR ABBY: We have two daughters, Joyce who is 20 and Jessica who is 16.

Joyce is getting married in May. She insists on having her wedding in her boy friend's church because it is bigger. We live in a small town and belong to a small, but very nice little church. Her boy friend lives in a bigger town and belongs to a bigger church.

I don't feel like doing any of the planning in a church where all are strangers. Also Joyce says Jessica can't be in the wedding party because she is too young. Jessica is just as tall as Joyce, and she is heartbroken. Please reply soon and tell me what to do.

MRS. A.

DEAR MRS. A.: Joyce needs a kindly lesson in values and humility. A wedding launched from a platform of such materialism and lack of family concerns is off to a poor start.

But if at 20, your daughter must be told these things, don't be surprised if she doesn't hear.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "JUST ASKING": If a woman attracts men, she has sex appeal; if she attracts women, she has style; if she attracts everybody, she has charm.

Indiana Law Liberalized

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The Indiana House passed 62-13 and sent to the Senate Wednesday a bill to liberalize the state's abortion laws.

It would permit terminating pregnancies endangering a woman's physical or mental health, resulting from rape or incest and if there were a "substantial risk" the child could be physically or mentally defective.

Present law permits abortion only to save a woman's life.

Filing Your 1966 Tax Return

EDITOR'S NOTE — There are complicated rules about what you can deduct in figuring your federal income tax. This article, the last of five, discusses deductions.

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — In making out your 1966 income tax return you may find your deductible personal expenses were greater than allowed for in the standard deduction which anyone can take without listing expenses.

In that case, claim your expenses in full. But you'll have to itemize them, to prove you had them, and you'll have to figure your own tax, using form 1040.

The details and kinds of deductible and nondeductible expenses are vast, too vast for a story like this which can only hit the highlights.

You will find some details in the instruction pamphlet which the Internal Revenue Service sends all taxpayers, and infinitely more in the government's 160-page booklet, "Your Federal Income Tax." It costs 50 cents.

Here are some examples of expenses you can deduct:

State and city income taxes, real estate and state gasoline taxes but not federal gasoline taxes; state and city sales taxes — the instruction sheet has a list of the states with sales taxes and how much you can reasonably deduct in keeping with your income and family size; personal property taxes; interest on a personal loan; on a house mortgage; on delinquent taxes; and on personal property bought on the installment plan, like an automobile.

You can also deduct for union dues and dues in a professional society; fees to employment agencies; alimony payments by the one making them; books and newspapers bought for use in your job; and expenses for your education, provided it is to help you keep up with your job. You cannot deduct if the education was for personal reasons, like trying to help you get a better job.

If you use your car for business, you can deduct 10 cents a mile for the first 15,000 miles and seven cents a mile after that.

You can deduct contributions to charitable, religious or education organizations like the Community Chest, United Fund, Salvation Army, churches, Red Cross, heart, cancer and tuberculosis associations, nonprofit schools and hospitals; and gifts but no dues to the YMCA, YWCA, YMHA, YWHA, and organizations such as the American legion, and to states and cities for public purposes.

You'd better read the 1040 instructions or the booklet if you want to exclude from income some of the pay you got while home on sick leave or for medical and drug expenses.

For example: Depending on how much salary you got while home sick, you may be able to exclude after the first full week of sick leave or you may not be able to exclude until you have been out sick 30 days.

If you were under 65 and are filing a return, you may deduct medical expenses for yourself, your wife, or a dependent but only that part for which you have not been reimbursed by an insurance company and only that part of your unreimbursed expenses which exceed 3 per cent of your income.

Costs of medicines and drugs are included in medical expense to the extent they exceed 1 per cent of your income.

A person 65 before the end of the year you were considered 65 for the whole year if your birthday was as late as Jan. 1, 1967 — in making out his return can deduct his entire unreimbursed medical and drug expenses without worrying about what percentage of his income they were.

If you were under 65 and paid the medical and drug expenses of your over-65 parents—or your wife's over-65 parents—you can deduct them in full on your return but only if you also provided more than half the 1966 support of the one for whom you claim the deduction.

Here's another detail: You may claim a medical expense deduction for the premiums you paid on accident and health insurance policies which provide reimbursement for hospitalization, surgery fees and other medical expenses.

You can deduct transportation costs for going to get medical care—like bus, train, taxi or plane fare—or, if you use your own car, can deduct five cents a mile for such a trip.

You can exclude the first $100 of your stock dividends from domestic corporations—$200 if it is a joint return and the husband and wife each owned stock, either jointly or individually, from which they received at least $100 each. But the husband can't use part of his wife's dividends to make the total $200 and the wife can't use part of her husband's dividends for the same purpose.

You can also deduct what is above the first $100 for each personal loss from vandalism or from theft or casualty, like a storm that damaged your house or an accident that damaged your car, if it wasn't covered by insurance. But if your auto accident was caused by your willfulness, you can't deduct at all.

You can deduct five cents a mile if you work free for a qualified charitable organization and use your car in doing so.

But there are things for which you cannot deduct:

Federal income taxes; federal Society Security taxes withheld from your pay; Social Security payments you make for someone working in your home, like a maid; auto licenses, unless based on the value of the car; a driver's license; auto inspection or parking meter fees; taxes you pay for someone else as part of your support for a dependent; poll taxes, inheritance, gift, cigarette, tobacco or alcoholic beverage taxes; fees for dog tags, hunting or fishing licenses or marriage licenses; tolls for roads and bridges; water bills; sewerage and other service charges.

You cannot deduct gifts to political candidates, political organizations, relatives, friends or other individuals, labor unions or social clubs; you cannot deduct federal excise taxes on automobiles, telephones or airline tickets.

But there are other kinds of deductions you can take, like moving or travel expenses if you are transferred to a new job, or retirement income credit, or deductions for child care.

Council of Church Women Discusses Many Projects

A plan for organizing a Senior Citizens Center in Circleville was among many projects discussed during this week's meeting of the Circleville Council of Church Women.

Mrs. J. Boyd Stout presided at the session, held in the First EUB Church Service Center. Mrs. Walter Jones led in opening devotions. Richard Thomas, president of the Youth Fellowship was a guest.

Thanks were extended to the members of St. Joseph's Church for their hospitality for the World Day of Prayer. Approximately 200 attended the service and the fellowship hour following. The offering amounted to $139.00, all of which will be used for Christian education and mission purposes.

Mrs. Lorentz reported that 41 families had been helped at the Clothing Center on Feb. 1, and reminded everyone to continue to save and donate good, usable clothing and household items to the center.

Ideas for organizing a Center for Senior Citizens were discussed and a visitation will be made to the Center in Columbus. In the meantime, there is a group meeting at the First Methodist Church every Wednesday for the entire day. They cordially extend an invitation for others to join them.

Mr. Fred Duncan, of Pinckney St., is also interested in organizing an Old Timers musical group, to play for their own enjoyment. Anyone interested in this may call him or come to the meetings on Wednesday.

There will be no March meeting of the Council. The next meeting will be April 10, in the Church of the Brethren.

Mrs. Herbert Southward led the group in closing prayer.

But the husband can't use part of his wife's dividends to make the total $200 and the wife can't use part of her husband's dividends for the same purpose.

You can also deduct what is above the first $100 for each personal loss from vandalism or from theft or casualty, like a storm that damaged your house or an accident that damaged your car, if it wasn't covered by insurance. But if your auto accident was caused by your willfulness, you can't deduct at all.

You can deduct five cents a mile if you work free for a qualified charitable organization and use your car in doing so.

But here are things for which you cannot deduct:

Federal income taxes; federal Society Security taxes withheld from your pay; Social Security payments you make for someone working in your home, like a maid; auto licenses, unless based on the value of the car; a driver's license; auto inspection or parking meter fees; taxes you pay for someone else although you can claim them as part of your support for a dependent; poll taxes, inheritance, gift, cigarette, tobacco or alcoholic beverage taxes; fees for dog tags, hunting or fishing licenses or marriage licenses; tolls for roads and bridges; water bills; sewerage and other service charges.

You cannot deduct gifts to political candidates, political organizations, relatives, friends or other individuals, labor unions or social clubs; you cannot deduct federal excise taxes on automobiles, telephones or airline tickets.

But there are other kinds of deductions you can take, like moving or travel expenses if you are transferred to a new job, or retirement income credit, or deductions for child care.

"Oh Give Me A Home"

Her Emergency Prayer Network Grew and Grew

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP) — Three years ago Vivian Deal started an "Emergency Prayer Network" at her church. The program has now mushroomed to the point that the church gets about 750 calls a year. "We get more out of state calls from such places as Florida, California, Virginia and Oklahoma than we do local calls," says Mrs. Deal.

"Actually, the program has proven so popular that it is just about getting too big for us to handle," says Mrs. Deal, a member of the First Church of God here.

"We want to limit the prayer service to persons who have serious problems, but too many people with minor troubles are calling," she said.

She said the program works like this: When people have serious problems and want members of the church to pray for them they call the church.

The church has a list of emergency prayer service members and calls the first person on the list. That person, in turn, calls the next person on the list and the chain is continued until each EPN member is notified. On notification, each EPN member immediately conducts five minutes of prayer for the troubled person.

"We actually have four separate EPN lists that we use," Mrs. Deal says. "Two of the lists contain names of people on call 24 hours a day. The other two lists have names of people on call during the daytime or nighttime only. When we begin the EPN network calls it usually results in at least 40 people praying for the caller." Church pastor the Rev. David Grubbs says the emergency prayer network has resulted in a tremendous upsurge in membership at his church.

"More people have been converted at our church during the past three years than the total for the previous 15 years," he says. "To too many Christians, prayer is a gimmick to be used only occasionally. We believe that it is a normal daily experience."

Dixieland Wake Is Requested

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — L. Charles Underwood wanted his friends to hold a memorial party 30 days after his death with a Dixieland band providing the music.

Attorney Charles W. Greger said as Underwood's will was filed for probate that the party probably will be held — but on a more modest scale than the $2,500 get-together specified in the Cincinnati stock broker's will. Underwood's estate was estimated at $10,000. He died Feb. 7.

Greger said the party probably will be "a spring party for Underwood's son, Donald. The will said Underwood's widow shall draw up the guest list.

White Crosses Get Tipped with Red

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Some white crosses which state troopers erect at the site of fatal traffic accidents are going to be tipped with red to indicate the victims might have survived if they had been wearing safety belts.

State police say there might have been 267 less traffic fatalities in 1966 had the victims been using belts.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Last night a miracle occurred. It happened on the night after Johnny bought a new guitar and all of us joined in a family hootenanny.

When he came to live with us over a year ago, Sam didn't even talk. Raised in a sub-standard home, he was a mighty unhappy little boy with problems galore. He didn't like us at first—he wasn't glad to be with us. But, gradually, as the months wore on, he began to trust us and believe in our love.

That night as the family sang together—Sam suddenly began to sing with us. The miracle had occurred. He was now one of the family.

You see, the Church had taught us that the love of God accepts us completely and unconditionally. We had learned that we could love and accept Sam in the same way. In becoming a part of God's family, we had discovered how to create a new family of our own.

Her Emergency Prayer Network Grew and Grew

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP) — Three years ago Vivian Deal started an "Emergency Prayer Network" at her church. The program has now mushroomed to the point that the church gets about 750 calls a year.

"We get more out of state calls from such places as Florida, California, Virginia and Oklahoma than we do local calls," says Mrs. Deal.

"Actually, the program has proven so popular that it is just about getting too big for us to handle," says Mrs. Deal, a member of the First Church of God here.

"We want to limit the prayer service to persons who have serious problems, but too many people with minor troubles are calling," she said.

She said the program works like this:

When people have serious problems and want members of the church to pray for them they call the church.

The church has a list of emergency prayer service members and calls the first person on the list. That person, in turn, calls the next person on the list and the chain is continued until each EPN member is notified. On notification, each EPN member immediately conducts five minutes of prayer for the troubled person.

"We actually have four separate EPN lists that we use," Mrs. Deal says. "Two of the lists contain names of people on call 24 hours a day. The other two lists have names of people on call during the daytime or nighttime only. When we begin the EPN network calls it usually results in at least 40 people praying for the caller."

Church pastor the Rev. David Grubbs says the emergency prayer network has resulted in a tremendous upsurge in membership at his church.

"More people have been converted at our church during the past three years than the total for the previous 15 years," he says. "To too many Christians, prayer is a gimmick to be used only occasionally. We believe that it is a normal daily experience."

Dixieland Wake Is Requested

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — L. Charles Underwood wanted his friends to hold a memorial party 30 days after his death with a Dixieland band providing the music.

Attorney Charles W. Greger said as Underwood's will was filed for probate that the party probably will be held — but on a more modest scale than the $2,500 get-together specified in the Cincinnati stock broker's will. Underwood's estate was estimated at $10,000. He died Feb. 7.

Greger said the party probably will be "a spring party for Underwood's son, Donald. The will said Underwood's widow shall draw up the guest list."

White Crosses Get Tipped with Red

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Some white crosses which state troopers erect at the site of fatal traffic accidents are going to be tipped with red to indicate the victims might have survived if they had been wearing safety belts.

State police say there might have been 267 less traffic fatalities in 1966 had the victims been using belts.

"Oh Give Me A Home"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

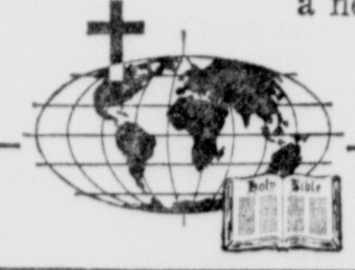

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Last night a miracle occurred. It happened on the night after Johnny bought a new guitar and all of us joined in a family hootenanny.

When he came to live with us over a year ago, Sam didn't even talk. Raised in a sub-standard home, he was a mighty unhappy little boy with problems galore. He didn't like us at first—he wasn't glad to be with us. But, gradually, as the months wore on, he began to trust us and believe in our love.

That night as the family sang together—Sam suddenly began to sing with us. The miracle had occurred. He was now one of the family.

You see, the Church had taught us that the love of God accepts us completely and unconditionally. We had learned that we could love and accept Sam in the same way. In becoming a part of God's family, we had discovered how to create a new family of our own.

God Yearns for the Lost

JESUS' TEACHINGS SHOW GOD DESIRES MEN BE RECONCILED TO HIM

Scripture—Luke 15.
By R. H. RAMSEY
TODAY'S lesson deals with the seeking love of God for sinners. His leniency with them, and the joy extant in heaven when even one sinner repents and becomes reconciled with God.
Not satisfied with telling one story, Jesus told three to illustrate how God never stops loving and caring for sinners; the parables of the lost sheep, the lost coin and the prodigal son.
Significantly, the chapter containing the parables regarding lost men begins with a statement concerning "publicans and sinners." Jesus had a deep concern for these outcasts, men shunned by the Jews, despised by the religious leaders, cut off from synagogue and Temple privileges and social intercourse, except among their own groups. Beset with their sins, they were drawn to Him because, for many of them, they were hearing a message of hope for the first time in their lives: that God really loved them and would redeem them from the bondage, hopelessness and misery of their sin.
The scribes and Pharisees made much of the fact that Jesus was often found in the company of "sinners and publicans," but, as the Lord was wont to point out, just as persons in good health have no need of a physician, people who were already truly righteous had no need of Him, the Great Physician.
The parable of the lost sheep shows how much God cares when even one—out of a hundred—wanders away and needs to be found. Just as a sheep, once lost, cannot return to the fold of its own accord, no man can find his own way back to God. He needs light and leading, and in this case, Jesus is the Shepherd, the light and the way back to God. When the lost sheep is returned the Shepherd and his neighbors rejoice.
The parable of the lost coin employs the same idea, though the odds are greatly reduced—one out of ten. In this parable the woman represents God, who will forget the nine coins already accounted for and search diligently until the lost coin is found. On finding it the woman rejoices and calls her friends.

GOLDEN TEXT
"For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost."—Luke 19:10.

came to the conclusion that his father's servants were better off than he at the time, and he determined to return home, in a spirit of humility, beg his father's forgiveness and ask to become a servant in his father's house.
His father saw him even before he arrived at home and ran to meet him. He heard his son's confession, was satisfied, and ordered a great feast that all might rejoice in his son's return.
As in the two previous parables Jesus concluded by stating there is joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, just as the penitent's father is depicted as joyful.

The concluding verses show us the true character of the brother who stayed home. Though outwardly a loyal son, he was self-righteous, self-satisfied, proud and utterly callous toward the real meaning of his brother's return. The rest of the family rejoiced that the young man had come to his senses and repented of what he had done. But the self-righteous brother refused to join in the jubilation.

WASHINGTON
The Washington Grange met Tuesday in the 4-H and Grange Building on the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Mrs. Kenneth Rinehart, worthy master, presided during the business meeting. A resolution was read for the late Ralph McDill by Loring Leist.

Mrs. Mary Valentine, secretary, read notes of appreciation from various members, roll call of officers and minutes of the various meeting. Since it was an open meeting, no business was transacted.

God Yearns for the Lost
JESUS' TEACHINGS SHOW GOD DESIRES MEN BE RECONCILED TO HIM
Scripture—Luke 15.

By R. H. RAMSEY
TODAY'S lesson deals with the seeking love of God for sinners. His leniency with them, and the joy extant in heaven when even one sinner repents and becomes reconciled with God.
Not satisfied with telling one story, Jesus told three to illustrate how God never stops loving and caring for sinners; the parables of the lost sheep, the lost coin and the prodigal son. Significantly, the chapter containing the parables regarding lost men begins with a statement concerning "publicans and sinners." Jesus had a deep concern for these outcasts, men shunned by the Jews, despised by the religious leaders, cut off from synagogue and Temple privileges and social intercourse, except among their own groups. Beset with their sins, they were drawn to Him because, for many of them, they were hearing a message of hope for the first time in their lives: that God really loved them and would redeem them from the bondage, hopelessness and misery of their sin.
The scribes and Pharisees made much of the fact that Jesus was often found in the company of "sinners and publicans," but, as the Lord was not to point out, just as persons in good health have no need of a physician, people who were already truly righteous had no need of Him, the Great Physician.
The parable of the lost sheep shows how much God cares when even one—out of a hundred—wanders away and needs to be found. Just as a sheep, once lost, cannot return to the fold of its own accord, no man can find his own way back to God. He needs light and leading, and in this case, Jesus is the Shepherd, the light and the way back to God. When the lost sheep is returned the Shepherd and his neighbors rejoice.
The parable of the lost coin employs the same idea, though the odds are greatly reduced—one out of ten. In this parable the woman represents God, who will forget the nine coins already accounted for and search diligently until the lost coin is found. On finding it the woman rejoices and calls her friends.

His Leadership Well Remembered

By VELDA GALLION and SUE STONEROCK

George Washington was born Feb. 22, 1732, in Westmoreland County, Virginia.

Washington is remembered on this date because of the great leadership he gave to the Continental U.S. His unselfish devotion to duty, courage, patience, genius and statesmanship led him to become the first president of the United States.

His inauguration to office was April 30, 1789. President Washington was re-elected in 1793, only to refuse the third term in 1796.

He passed away at Mount Vernon on Dec. 14, 1799. He was 67.

New York claims the honor of being the first to hold a celebration of George Washington's birthday on Feb. 22, 1783. On this date a company of gentlemen met at a hotel for dinner and made speeches in praise of him. Later, it was decided to meet annually for the purpose of honoring America's first president, George Washington.

If you want to help save the world, help make it worth saving.

GOOD LUCK, BOYS — Tom Fletcher (left) and Ron Miller stand before a bulletin board constructed by Mrs. Kent Carpenter wishing them good fortune. The two boys will be competing in the state wrestling match Friday and Saturday in St. John Arena at Ohio State University.

Senioritis Can Be Very Contagious

By SANDRA TREGO and VIVIAN LANMAN

Senioritis has struck again, infecting the many seniors at Circleville High.

It is highly contagious and spreads like wildfire once it gets hold. It affects only seniors, but it's disaster is widespread.

The symptoms of senioritis is unusual in that infected seniors feel fine and is as active in extracurricular activities as ever.

Study ceases to be of importance and he goes about walking on air. Then the boom is lowered. Grade cards are issued, then he finds his grades are much lower than they should be.

This is the crisis time. Will the student sink or swim? Will he buckle down to work and graduate or will he return next year for a repeat performance?

Most students recover. But some continue on the downward way until it's too late. What will it be for you? Will you overcome this "bug" or will you let it be the victor? Only you can decide.

Student Of the Week

MIKE WOODWARD

By DENISE JACKSON

Senior of the Week is Mike Woodward, 18.

Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Woodward, Route 3. He has two sisters, Jennifer and Debra, and one brother, Chris.

Enrolled in the classical course, his favorite subject is government. Mike is the very effective chairman of the senior class council. He also is an active student in NHS and EMS.

His hobby of coin collecting goes hand-in-hand with his plans to study archeology at Ohio University after graduation.

Mike feels the senior year is really great. "Being a senior is the greatest feeling in the world. Everyone says that the high school years are the best in our lives, but it's really nice to have the end of them in sight."

Mike wishes to leave some advice to underclassmen: "work hard to get your grades up. Then, when you're a senior, you can afford to lean back and relax just a little."

Lausche Says He Will Seek Third Term

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, 72-year-old Ohio Democrat, said Thursday he will seek a third 6-year term in 1968.

Lausche also had this to say in an interview:

—Congress will not approve President Johnson's request for a 6 per cent surtax on income taxes.

—He solidly supports Johnson for his insistence that North Vietnam show reciprocity on matters leading to any possible peace negotiations.

—"There is no question whatsoever that he (Johnson) will run (for reelection) in 1968."

The Ohioan did not elaborate on his decision to seek a third Senate term.

But, with respect to Johnson's request for the surtax, Lausche said "the choice has to be made between continued federal spending on the one hand and imposition of new taxes on the other."

"I will exert every bit of effort I have," he said, "to avoid the imposition of new taxes. Savings can be made by stopping expansion of spending on many existing programs and avoiding adoption of new ones."

He said there is no justification for artificially beefing up the economy through federal spending when the demands on the nation's productive capacity are hugely expanded by involvement in the Vietnam war.

British Recommend Troop Reductions

LONDON (AP) — The British government Thursday recommended a balanced East-West reduction of military forces in Europe, saying "there is little danger of aggression" on the Continent because of the changing Soviet society and Red China's anti-Soviet trend.

An annual review of the nation's defense policy suggested that some combat-ready forces assigned to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization could be deployed in other theaters, and rushed back to Europe if war threatened.

Another reason that girls are classified as members of the opposite sex is that every time they think they know what they want it's just the opposite.

His Leadership Well Remembered

By VELDA GALLION and SUE STONEROCK

George Washington was born Feb. 22, 1732, in Westmoreland County, Virginia. Washington is remembered on this date because of the great leadership he gave to the Continental U.S. His unselfish devotion to duty, courage, patience, genius and statesmanship led him to become the first president of the United States.

His inauguration to office was April 30, 1789. President Washington was re-elected in 1793, only to refuse the third term in 1796.

He passed away at Mount Vernon on Dec. 14, 1799. He was 67.

New York claims the honor of being the first to hold a celebration of George Washington's birthday on Feb. 22, 1783. On this date a company of gentlemen met at a hotel for dinner and made speeches in praise of him. Later, it was decided to meet annually for the purpose of honoring America's first president, George Washington.

Senioritis Can Be Very Contagious

By SANDRA TREGO and VIVIAN LANMAN

Senioritis has struck again, infecting the many seniors at Circleville High.

It is highly contagious and spreads like wildfire once it gets hold. It affects only seniors, but it's disaster is widespread.

The symptoms of senioritis is unusual in that infected seniors feel fine and is as active in extracurricular activities as ever.

Study ceases to be of importance and he goes about walking on air. Then the boom is lowered. Grade cards are issued, then he finds his grades are much lower than they should be.

This is the crisis time. Will the student sink or swim? Will he buckle down to work and graduate or will he return next year for a repeat performance? Most students recover. But some continue on the downward way until it's too late. What will it be for you? Will you overcome this "bug" or will you let it be the victor? Only you can decide.

Circleville Cagers Tangle With Walnut Ridge Scots

Circleville Tigers pit their 7-11 record against Walnut Ridge's 2-14 mark at 7:30 p. m. Saturday in Cooper Arena at the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

Located about 500 feet southwest of the Coliseum, the arena has a seating capacity of 2,200 according to Central District officials.

The Tigers play in the fourth game of a five card slate Saturday.

"We have a good chance to win," Coach Chuck Hill says of the game.

"THEY (Walnut Ridge) are about average size, with one guy 6-4, one 6-1 and a couple right at 6-foot.

"They have been playing against better teams than we have and should be tougher on the boards than any team we have played," Hill says of the Columbus City League team.

"We'll have to play better than our last time out to win."

In spite of Circleville's fourth place finish in the South Central Ohio League race, the Tigers had three cagers right at the top in statistics.

Tim Stonerock, who needs only 14 points for a career total of 1,000 in varsity competition, leads the league in scoring.

Hitting the nets at a clip of 26.5 per game, Stonerock has 265 points in league tilts. He has an accuracy rate of 45.7 from the field and 70.2 at the foul line. He is fifth in the league in rebounding, although he is only 5-9.

"TIM IS an amazing player," coach Hill says of his diminutive star. "He is the kind that comes too infrequently to a team, and the Circleville fans who have not been out to see him play have been missing a lot."

Danny Speakman, the Tiger center at 6-0, is third in the league in field goal accuracy with a 50.5 rate.

According to statistics compiled by the Circleville chartkeepers, Speakman has made 55 of 109 shots from the field.

Most of those goals, Hill points out, have come from distances of 20 to 25 feet.

"Danny is a fine outside shot, and I'm not surprised he is near the top in accuracy," Hill commented.

Jeff Steele is leading the league in foul shooting accuracy. He has converted 19 of 22 charity tosses in league action for an 86.4 per cent average.

ONE SOUTH Central Ohio League team has already fallen by the wayside in tournament action.

Washington C. H. was trounced by Columbus Bishop Ready, 93-47, Thursday. The Blue Lions trailed 17-12 at the end of the first quarter, 38-20 at halftime and 68-34 as the fourth quarter began.

World Stars Compete at Indoor Meet

NEW YORK (AP) — A group of international stars will fight it out with some home-grown products tonight in a star-laden line-up at the New York Athletic Club indoor games.

No less than seven — and possibly eight — world and indoor record holders will compete in the meet, which has come out of the feud between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association with its fields virtually unharmed.

Ralph Boston, world long jump champ, was to decide a few hours before the meet began whether his leg troubles had cleared up enough to allow him to compete.

Some of the foreign athletes making their season debuts in the meet are Alvaro Mejia of Colombia and Bill Baillie of New Zealand in the two-mile and Ian Studd of New Zealand in the mile.

And no matter what the outcome of the AAU's suspension of some foreign athletes' f.o. competing in an unsanctioned meet here last Friday, most of the affected colleges will have teams in the meet.

Knicks Win 121-120 Over Hawks

NEW YORK (AP) — He who hesitates is not always lost — at least not if he has a good jump shot.

Dick Barnett got the ball with 35 seconds left and the score tied 116-116 Thursday night in a game between his New York Knicks and the St. Louis Hawks.

He leaped into the air but hesitated before shooting.

"I saw someone cut but he got by me before I could pass to him, and Richie Guerin (St. Louis player-coach) was reaching behind me," Barnett said.

So before he hit the floor, he pushed the ball toward the basket and it went through and the Knicks went on to a 121-120 victory.

The game was the nightcap of a National Basketball Association doubleheader at Madison Square Garden, Cincinnati beat Detroit 122-110 in the opener.

In the only other game, Rick Barry scored 52 points in leading San Francisco to a 125-124 victory over Chicago at Fresno, Calif.

Barnett, who has become a starter in his second season with the Knicks, after building up a reputation as a sixth man with Syracuse and Los Angeles, is a big reason why the Knicks, now 32-34, are enjoying their best season since 1958-59.

Cincinnati saw an 18-point lead dwindle to two late in the third quarter but then regrouped behind Oscar Robertson to win going away.

Robertson scored 34 points and Adrian Smith 30 for the Royals. Dave Bing got 21 and John Tresvant 20 for Detroit.

Barry, the league's leading scorer, collected 17 points in the third period against the Bulls. He tallied the Warriors' last seven points tying the game 122-122 on a free throw with 97 seconds left.

Barry then added the final three points on foul shots, giving San Francisco a 125-122 lead before Chicago scored the last basket. Bob Boozer topped the Bulls with 22 points.

YOUR MONEY

By CHET MCKENZIE

There aren't very many large-scale employers in America which one hundred years ago employed no one — and today are responsible for an annual payroll of more than $5 billion. But the nation's insured savings and loan associations fall into this select group.

Generally these associations aren't thought of primarily as "employers" (unless you happen to work directly for one), but in a very real sense they are.

Savings and loan associations provide the payroll for $5 billion in new home construction each year — the money that pays the architects and builders, carpenters, electricians, bricklayers, plumbers — everyone involved in building the home.

Because of savings and loan association new home financing, thousands of workers find employment for their skills . . . and thousands of families are able to enjoy a new home, financed on terms tailored to their individual needs. Because savings and loan associations do more new home financing than all other financial institutions combined, we have the experience to serve you better!

Cincinnati Apt To Get 10th AFL Franchise

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The city of Cincinnati and the name of Paul Brown came to the forefront in unofficial discussion among American Football League club owners as they wrapped up four days of meetings here Thursday.

Cincinnati appeared to have the inside track to become the league's tenth franchise. The name of the legendary former coach of the Cleveland Browns added luster to the most prominent of three solid groups in the Ohio metropolis which are bidding for the club.

The AFL owners voted Thursday to move toward immediate expansion following a meeting that President Milt Woodard said may have advanced by one year, to 1969, a complete merger with the National Football League.

The league voted Wednesday to bring its player pension plan up to the NFL level, removing the major stumbling block to player trading.

"We conveyed our feeling directly to Pete Rozelle (pro football commissioner) and the NFL owners will take it up next Monday at Honolulu," Woodard said.

The AFL likely would welcome a coach of Brown's prestige and reputation. Before he was ousted in 1963 following a change of ownership on the Cleveland NFL club, Brown posted a 12-year record with the Browns of 104-38-5 including nine conference championships and four NFL titles.

He heads a group composed of his son, Cleveland attorney Mike Brown, John Sawyer and Dr. William Hackett of London, Ohio.

Cincinnati will break ground in April on a new 55,000-seat stadium. A bid by a Seattle group was weakened recently by defeat of a new stadium bond issue.

One owner was quoted as saying Cincinnati "is a cinch to get the 10th franchise."

Two members of the three-man selection team voiced sentiments favorable to the city, and managing partner Joe Robbie of the Miami Dolphins said, "Cincinnati is the team that crops up most in expansion discussions."

Courtney Behind Palmer 1 Stroke at 2nd Round

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Chuck Courtney went into Friday's second round of the $60,000 Tucson Open golf tourney one stroke behind Arnold Palmer while taking putting lessons along the way.

Courtney, who finished with a five-under-par 67 in the gathering darkness Thursday, says he owes his good showing to Bob Charles, tour veteran from Christchurch, New Zealand.

"I don't care if he three-putts every green," said Courtney, tour regular from La Jolla, Calif., "as far as I'm concerned he's the best putter on the tour."

Courtney, 26, playing in the same threesome as Charles, said he had been having trouble with his putting and watching Charles stroke the ball on the greens helped his game.

"Just watching him come through the ball made me realize I was using too much left hand and it helped my concentration," said Courtney, who three-putted only one green.

That three-putt green came on the final hole and knocked Courtney out of a chance for a tie with Palmer and gave him his only bogie of the day.

Up to that point, Courtney sank putts of 20, 20, 15, 12 and 24 feet in gaining six birdies.

Courtney finished in a three-way tie for second with Bruce Crampton of Sidney, Australia, and Joel Goldstrand of Worthington, Minn., who survived a qualifying round playoff to make the Tucson Open.

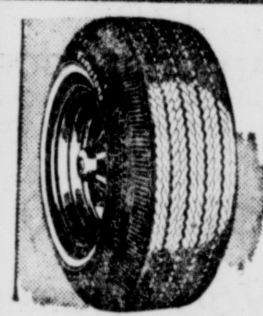

Palmer, who sat out last week's Phoenix Open, found the Tucson National Golf Club course, a 7,200-yard par 36-36 72 desert layout to his liking.

Vet Catcher Returns to White Sox

CHICAGO (AP) — A pudgy figure will chug up to the plate in Comiskey Park again this baseball season while the organ at plays "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" and White Sox fans chant for a pinch hit.

Catcher Smoky Burgess, holder of a major league record of 137 pinch hits, was rehired Friday by the Sox who had given him his unconditional release last fall.

The return of Smoky at the age of 40 adds some spice to a team that needs it.

And, likely as not, he would slap a pinch hit. He made 21 last season as he battled 318 and boosted his league record to 137. The most pinch hits in a season is 24 by Dave Philley when he was with the Baltimore Orioles.

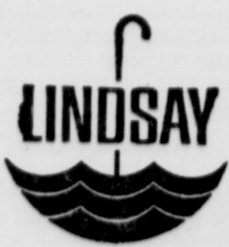

When Smoky was given his unconditional release after the Sox asked waivers on him it was said he wanted to devote all his time to his automobile business in Forrest City, N.C.

Sox General Manager Ed Short said if he wanted to return as an active player he would be invited to spring training. Short said Smoky will report to the Sox March 1 in Sarasota, Fla.

Hurricanes Overwhelm Cincy Bearcats 76-57

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Joe Swank can start thinking about Louisville now.

The coach of the University of Tulsa saw his Hurricanes overwhelm the Cincinnati Bearcats 76-57 in the top college basketball game Thursday night.

That set up a Saturday showdown with Louisville's nationally ranked Cardinals that is expected to decide the championship of the tough Missouri Valley Conference.

While Tulsa was beating the Bearcats at home, Louisville staged off a late rally by North Texas State to beat the Eagles 68-61 at Denton, Tex.

It was the 21st victory against two defeats for the Cardinals, second only to unbeaten UCLA in The Associated Press poll.

The Cardinals thus go into their crucial game at Tulsa Saturday with 10-1 MVC record. Tulsa is 7-2 in MVC play and 16-5 over-all.

Led by Eldridge Webb, Tulsa surprised Cincinnati by playing a man-to-man defense at the start before going back to its familiar zone. Webb threw in 22 points, 16 of them in the first half, as the Hurricane piled up a commanding 41-23 lead.

North Texas chopped a 17-point Louisville lead to three before the Cardinals pulled themselves together and averted an upset. Doug Willoughby sparked the Eagle rally, scoring all of his 12 points in the last 14 minutes. Butch Beard topped Louisville with 20 points on five field goals and 10 free throws.

Wichita edged Bradley 76-74 at Peoria on Warren Armstrong's two free throws that put the Shockers ahead for good at 73-72 with 55 seconds left. Two free throws by Charley Povini in the last 75 seconds gave Navy a 66-65 victory over Maryland at Annapolis.

The St. John's Redmen of New York upped their record to 17-3 with a 66-48 home court victory over Niagara behind 19 points by Sonny Dove.

In other games, Virginia handed Wake Forest its fifth straight defeat 81-67 at Charlottesville and Davidson routed Furman 97-67 at Greenville, S.C.

Hurricanes Overwhelm Cincy Bearcats 76-57

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Joe Swank can start thinking about Louisville now.
The coach of the University of Tulsa saw his Hurricanes overwhelm the Cincinnati Bearcats 76-57 in the top college basketball game Thursday night.

That set up a Saturday showdown with Louisville's nationally ranked Cardinals that is expected to decide the championship of the tough Missouri Valley Conference.

While Tulsa was beating the Bearcats at home, Louisville stayed off a late rally by North Texas State to beat the Eagles 68-61 at Denton, Tex.

It was the 21st victory against two defeats for the Cardinals, second only to unbeaten UCLA in The Associated Press poll.

The Cardinals thus go into their crucial game at Tulsa Saturday with 10-1 MVC record. Tulsa is 7-2 in MVC play and 16-5 over-all.

Led by Eldridge Webb, Tulsa surprised Cincinnati by playing a man-to-man defense at the start before going back to its familiar zone. Webb threw in 22 points, 16 of them in the first half, as the Hurricane piled up a commanding 41-23 lead.

North Texas chopped a 17-point Louisville lead to three before the Cardinals pulled themselves together and averted an upset. Doug Willoughby sparked the Eagle rally, scoring all of his 12 points in the last 14 minutes. Butch Beard topped Louisville with 20 points on five field goals and 10 free throws.

Wichita edged Bradley 76-74 at Peoria on Warren Armstrong's two free throws that put the Shockers ahead for good at 73-72 with 55 seconds left. Two free throws by Charley Povini in the last 75 seconds gave Navy a 66-65 victory over Maryland at Annapolis.

The St. John's Redmen of New York upped their record to 17-3 with a 66-48 home court victory over Niagara behind 19 points by Sonny Dove.

In other games, Virginia handed Wake Forest its fifth straight defeat 81-67 at Charlottesville and Davidson routed Furman 97-67 at Greenville, S.C.

Pickaway Heart Association Conducts General Meeting

GENERAL MEETING — Approximately 40 persons were present for this week's main organizational meeting for the 1967 Pickaway County Heart Fund campaign. Presiding at the speaker's table were, from the left: Mary Bewley, Central Ohio Heart Assn. representative; Gordon A. Fraser, general chairman; and Dr. Manuel Sanguily, Pickaway County Heart Assn. president.

CHAIRMAN FOR 1968 — Terry R. Sloan has been appointed general chairman of the Pickaway County Heart Assn. for 1968. He is serving as publicity director during the current campaign.

Approximately 40 persons were present for this week's main organizational and informational meeting of the 1967 Pickaway County Heart Fund campaign.

The Wednesday meeting, held at the Presbyterian Church, was opened by Gordon A. Fraser, general chairman. He offered a welcome and introduced association officers.

The officers are: Dr. Manuel Sanguily, president; David Hoffman, treasurer; Mrs. George Meyers, secretary.

Dr. Sanguily stressed the fact that he, as president and medical adviser to the Heart Assn., has the opportunity to see heart dollars at work.

"This is what makes our jobs as volunteers difficult," said Sanguily. "We cannot cite examples to these we solicit where the Heart Fund has provided assistance to a local citizen. Since the majority of Heart Funds go for research into the causes and cures of cardiovascular and circulatory system disease, there is no material benefit that we can point out to people as an incentive for donating to our cause."

Sanguily went on to describe an incident in which he was involved at Berger Hospital, where a patient's heart stopped on the operating table. Dr. Sanguily was able to restart the patient's heart, and sustain the patient's heartbeat by use of the closed heart massage technique.

He had just learned at a seminar conducted by the Central Ohio Heart Assn.

The patient is alive today and well, due primarily to Dr. Sanguily and the Heart Assn.

Following Sanguily's address, Fraser introduced the chairman of this year's Heart Fund drive. They are: Terry R. Sloan, publicity director; Mrs. D. E. Schneider and Mrs. Joseph Smith, Heart Sunday co-chairmen; Wendell Emerine, business, industry and special gifts chairman; James Helt and Nelson Stevens, rural solicitation co-chairmen; Richard Smith and George McDowell, rural school activities co-chairmen.

It was announced that publicity director Sloan would assume the duties of general chairman for the 1968 campaign. He is a maintenance supervisor at the local DuPont plant and has been in Circleville four years. He has been active in community affairs.

Following the announcement of next year's chairman, the meeting was turned over to Mary Bewley, Central Ohio Heart Assn. representative. She described the functions of COHA, and explained to the volunteers what they should expect during their door-to-door canvass on Feb. 25, which is Heart Sunday.

Movies about the COHA were shown. The films were on known cases of heart disease, their effects, and what the Heart Association is doing to try to combat problems of the disease.

After the film volunteer packets were distributed and questions concerning the canvass was answered by Fraser and Bewley.

Legislature Report

By MYRL H. SHOEMAKER
State Representative
21st District

Still to be decided at the end of this legislative week is the date on which an election will be held regarding the governor's proposed Bond Commission and the reapportionment of the legislature. May 2, June 6 or Nov. 7 have been suggested.

It is my feeling that these Constitutional propositions should be voted on in the November election. In the first place, there will be a great many more people voting in a general election than in a primary. Secondly, every voting district will be voting in a general election, and consequently there will be no additional expense to the taxpayer, as would be the case if the election were held in either May or June.

On questions of Constitution changes, and especially one of such import, it is imperative to have the greatest number of people voice their opinion.

A bill passed the House this week and beginning in 1969 it will change the term of the office of the treasurer of municipal corporations with populations less than 100,000 from two to four years. One feature of the bill is to provide municipalities with more continuity in financial affairs during changes in administration and to provide the treasurer and auditor with a check on one another.

Also passed this week was a bill that exempts the total amount of pensions and annuities credited to any person under the federal Civil Service Retirement Act, from the imposition of the state inheritance and estate tax.

Ohio is presently one of seven states which does not exempt federal civil service retirement benefits from the computation of estates for inheritance tax purposes.

Another bill exempts Ohio servicemen on active duty and for six months, thereafter from the driver's license requirements provided they held a valid license when beginning active duty.

This make it possible for servicemen on active duty to have the kind of living privileges and examination require-

OSP AT ROTARY — Maj. Lowell G. Ridenour of the State Highway Patrol was principal speaker at the Thursday Rotary meeting. The major outlined the history of the patrol, its present operations and gave a brief description of its plans for the future. Area law enforcement officials present were (from the left) Patrol Sgt. James Pribble, Circleville Police Chief Robert Temple and Sheriff Dwight Radcliff.

Accounting Procedures In Insurance Disputed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two witnesses, wrapping up testimony at a three-day state hearing on controversial auto insurance rate increases, contended Thursday that accounting procedures used by insurance companies give a "misleading" picture of profits.

This results in a higher premium cost to the motorist, said T. Grayson Maddrea, an accountant from Richmond, Va., and Charles K. Leslie Jr., an insurance consultant from Houston, Tex.

Testifying for the Ohio AFL-CIO, which charges the increases are excessive, Maddrea had said that bodily injury insurance rates in Ohio could actually have been lowered last year rather than raised. Under cross-examination, he conceded he had not included certain adjustment figures which would alter the rates he had recommended.

State Insurance Director William Morris said in closing the hearing he would announce a decision "hopefully during the first part of April" on whether to rescind the rate hikes or let them stand.

Morris said his department wanted to dispel any impression that "our minds are made up and will not be changed" about the acceptability of the new rates.

Defending the rates at the hearings were representatives of the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the National Automobile Underwriters Association. The two agencies, which set premium rates for a number of insurance firms operating in Ohio, filed the rate increases last November.

They amount to a statewide average of 13.5 per cent on liability coverage and 11.5 per cent on comprehensive and collision coverage.

The insurance spokesmen disagreed with the union representatives on whether the companies should consider their investment profits from certain reserve funds to lower the cost of the motorist's premium. The companies say they cannot, since changes in the investment market would cause premiums to fluctuate.

21st District

Still to be decided at the end of this legislative week is the date on which an election will be held regarding the governor's proposed Bond Commission and the reapportionment of the legislature. May 2, June 6 or Nov. 7 have been suggested.

It is my feeling that these Constitutional propositions should be voted on in the November election. In the first place, there will be a great many more people voting in a general election than in a primary. Secondly, every voting district will be voting in a general election, and consequently there will be no additional expense to the taxpayer, as would be the case if the election were held in either May or June.

On questions of Constitution changes, and especially one of such import, it is imperative to have the greatest number of people voice their opinion.

A bill passed the House this week and beginning in 1969 it will change the term of the office of the treasurer of municipal corporations with populations less than 100,000 from two to four years. One feature of the bill is to provide municipalities with more continuity in financial affairs during changes in administration and to provide the treasurer and auditor with a check on one another.

Also passed this week was a bill that exempts the total amount of pensions and annuities credited to any person under the federal Civil Service Retirement Act, from the imposition of the state inheritance and estate tax.

Ohio is presently one of seven states which does not exempt federal civil service retirement benefits from the computation of estates for inheritance tax purposes.

Another bill exempts Ohio servicemen on active duty and for six months, thereafter from the driver's license requirements provided they held a valid license when beginning active duty.

This make it possible for servicemen on active duty to have the kind of living privileges and examination requirements they might have had if they were not fulfilling military service obligations.

Accounting Procedures In Insurance Disputed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two witnesses, wrapping up testimony at a three-day state hearing on controversial auto insurance rate increases, contended Thursday that accounting procedures used by insurance companies give a "misleading" picture of profits.

This results in a higher premium cost to the motorist, said T. Grayson Maddrea, an accountant from Richmond, Va., and Charles K. Leslie Jr., an insurance consultant from Houston, Tex.

Testifying for the Ohio AFL-CIO, which charges the increases are excessive, Maddrea had said that bodily injury insurance rates in Ohio could actually have been lowered last year rather than raised. Under cross-examination, he conceded he had not included certain adjustment figures which would alter the rates he had recommended.

State Insurance Director William Morris said in closing the hearing he would announce a decision "hopefully during the first part of April" on whether to rescind the rate hikes or let them stand.

Morris said his department wanted to dispel any impression that "our minds are made up and will not be changed" about the acceptability of the new rates.

Defending the rates at the hearings were representatives of the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the National Automobile Underwriters Association.

The two agencies, which set premium rates for a number of insurance firms operating in Ohio, filed the rate increases last November.

They amount to a statewide average of 13.5 per cent on liability coverage and 11.5 per cent on comprehensive and collision coverage.

The insurance spokesmen disagreed with the union representatives on whether the companies should consider their investment profits from certain reserve funds to lower the cost of the motorist's premium. The companies say they cannot, since changes in the investment market would cause premiums to fluctuate.
